

WHY CONSIDER HOPE REENTRY COURT?

- ⇒ You want to increase your chances of successfully completing your supervision term.
- ⇒ You want to obtain substance use treatment.
- ⇒ You want a support network.
- ⇒ You want to be successful beyond supervision and your federal case.
- ⇒ You want to maintain sobriety.
- ⇒ You want to learn skills to help you achieve your goals.
- ⇒ You want to develop tools and a support foundation for recovery.
- ⇒ You want a positive, long-term change.

United States Probation Office
Eastern District of North Carolina
310 New Bern Avenue, Room 610
Raleigh, NC 27601
Phone: 919-861-8660
Fax: 919-861-5555
<https://www.ncep.uscourts.gov>

The U.S. Probation Office for the Eastern District of North Carolina includes a headquarters office in Raleigh, North Carolina and field offices throughout the district. The office is led by the Chief U.S. Probation Officer and supported by U.S. Probation Officers and administrative staff.

The U.S. Probation Office's Supervision Services Unit provides community-based supervision for individuals under various forms of court-ordered supervision. In addition to monitoring compliance with court-ordered conditions, officers work collaboratively with individuals on supervision to identify needs, reduce risk, and support positive change. This includes providing guidance and referrals related to treatment, employment, and other supportive services as appropriate.

HOPE Reentry Court

Helping Others Pursue Excellence

HOPE

Helping Others Pursue Excellence

REENTRY COURT

An interagency collaboration of the U.S. Probation Office,
U.S. Attorney's Office, Federal Public Defender's Office, C.J.A. Panel,
First Step Services, L.L.C., and the Court

United States Probation Office
Eastern District of North Carolina
Raleigh, North Carolina

WHAT IS HOPE?

HOPE is a voluntary, federal reentry court program based in Raleigh, North Carolina. Graduates complete the program in 15 months on average, with total duration dependent on participants' individual progress. HOPE is designed for individuals on probation or supervised release who have a history of substance use and would benefit from structured support, treatment, and accountability.

HOPE Reentry Court provides:

- ⇒ A structured support system with incentives and graduated responses to promote long-term, sustainable change
- ⇒ An emphasis on recovery, accountability, and personal responsibility
- ⇒ A collaborative support network of multidisciplinary team members

HOPE TREATMENT PHASES

HOPE provides a four-phase drug treatment program (durations noted are dependent on participants' individual progress):

- ⇒ PHASE I—Early Recovery (4-8 weeks)
- ⇒ PHASE II—Primary Treatment (8-12 weeks)
- ⇒ PHASE III—Continued Care and Supervision (12-16 weeks)
- ⇒ PHASE IV—Commencement (16-20 weeks)

The HOPE Reentry Court team is a multidisciplinary group that includes judges, treatment providers, and representatives from the U.S. Attorney's Office, Federal Public Defender's Office, C.J.A. Panel (court-appointed private defense counsel), and U.S. Probation Office. The team works collaboratively to support participants in developing insight into their substance use, identifying contributing factors, and understanding the impact of their behavior on themselves, their families, and the community.

Through treatment and other rehabilitative services, participants are supported in making meaningful, sustainable changes that promote long-term success. Participants who successfully complete the HOPE Reentry Court program are recognized with a graduation ceremony celebrating their achievements.

HOPE COURT SESSIONS

All HOPE Reentry Court participants attend court sessions:

- ⇒ Court is held weekly on Thursday mornings.
- ⇒ Court sessions start at 8:00 a.m.
- ⇒ The courtroom is closed to the public.
- ⇒ Participants remain for the entire court session.
- ⇒ Participants are called upon individually.
- ⇒ Family support is encouraged.
- ⇒ The HOPE team will encourage, guide, and support you.

For more information about HOPE Reentry Court, speak with your supervising probation officer, treatment provider, or attorney.

HOPE Reentry Court sessions are held in the Terry Sanford Federal Building, at 310 New Bern Avenue, on the 7th Floor, Courtroom 2, in Raleigh, NC.

